

Curriculum vitae

University Professor Dipl.-Ing. Ralph Mösges, M.D. Ph.D. FAAAAI an otorhinolaryngologist and allergologist, Master of Public Administration with a specialist degree and habilitation in Medical Informatics is the director and owner of Clinical Research International Ltd. Hamburg and managing director of ClinCompetence GmbH Cologne, two organizations specialized in research for private contractors and public authorities in the fields of allergology and otorhinolaryngology. He was until 2017 the chairman of the Institute of Medical Statistics, Informatics and Epidemiology at the University Hospital of Cologne, Germany. His current research fields are allergic and infectious diseases of the upper airways, epidemiology, and clinical pharmacology.

Ralph Mösges is the author and editor of ten books and has published more than 400 articles in renowned journals. He holds German and international patents in Computer Assisted Surgery.